MANCRESTER AND VICENITY. Anniversary Celebration.—The first anniversary celebration of the West-End Metholist Sunday school will take place next anday night at the Ninth-Street Methodist hureb. The exercises promise to be quite steresting. The scholars have been making reparations for the occasion for several celebrates. Mr. I. C. Wells is superintenent of the school, and he will direct the tereises. Since the organization of the shool its membership has gradually insased.

Aberai Collection.—A collection was taken at the colored Baptist church in this city nday, and the bandsome sum of $431 was sed. This money is to be used towards ying for the rebuilding of the church, sich is expected to be completed in a few celts. Rev. A. Bings, Jr., is the pastor, d since his ministry began here the memrship has largely increased. When completed the church will be the handsomest d most commodious one in this city.

A Fine Drive.—When the work of improving River View road, which runs along the river side, beginning at the extreme end of Ninth street, is completed it will be the prettiest drive leading out of this city. A fine view of Richmond and Manchester can be obtained all along this road within the distance of several miles. Sufficient money has been appropriated to put the road in a very good condition.

Brief Items.—The Green-Stocking Base-Ball Club, of this city, won the match at the Fair-Grounds Monday. They beat the Richmonds by a score of 24 to 11.

A branch of the order of the "Iron Hall" is about being instituted in this city by Judge S. Bassett French, deputy supreme justice. It is a fraternal association that provides wholly for its living members.

days since in answering an inquiry that one-thousand-dollar notes were the targest issued by the national banks, or treasury. I do not know that there are any of a bigger denomination than ten thousand dollar size—only for five minutes, however. I thought your answer might have been used to decide a bet; hence I trouble you with this correction.

Petersburg, June 1, 1881.

This surprises us. We guess "T." must allude to silver certificates. The Report of the Comptroller of the Currency for 1877 says:

"The subjoined table exhibits by denominations the amount of national-bank and in the Renmond and Islanding and Islanding and Islanding and Islanding and Islanding and Islanding and the lease of the North Carolina railroads, and the lease of the North Carolina railroads and the lease of the North Carolina railroads and the lease of the North Carolina railroad. We can confidently recommend these bonds, as the annual report of the company for the year end-the two preceding years, besides adding largely to its rolling stock and machinery, and purchasing and reduced its debt over $450,000 during her two preceding years, besides adding largely to its rolling stock and machinery, and purchasing and reduced its debt over $450,000 during her two preceding years, besides adding largely to its rolling stock and machinery, and purchasing ending April 30, 1881, the net receipts of the company after the compa

He then gives the number of ones, twos, fives, tens, twenties, fifties, one bundreds, five hundreds, and one thousands; and all these together make up $315,881,990 of national-bank notes, and $356,483,892 of legal tenders, which were the totals of the two kinds of currency then out. There certainly, therefore, were no ten-thousanddollar treasury notes or greenbacks out at

[Unquestionably.]

If Dr. Doremus is right in his analysis of elephant's milk it would be an admirable diet for lean folks. Now let a company be formed to operate an elephant ranch and supply the market with elephant's milk. It is suggested that Hon. John F. Lewis ought to try it before commencing his canvass.
